LOUISVILLE AGRICULTURAL HOWARD ASSOCIATION, PHILADELPHIA,

PHILADELPHIA,

A Benevolent Institution, established by special endowment for the relief of the sick and distressed, efficied with Virulent and Epidemic diseases.

TO all persons afflicted with Sexnal Diseases, such as I SPERMATORRHEA, SEMINAL WEAKNESS, IMPOTENCE, GONORRHEA, GLEET, SYPHILIS, the Vice of ONANISM, or SELF-ABUSE, &c., &c.

The HOWARD ASSOCIATION, in view of the awful destruction of human life, caused by Sexnal diseases, and the deceptions practised upon the unfortunate vicitims of such diseases by Quacks, several years ago directed their Cousulting Surgeon, as a CHARITABLE ACT worthy of their name, to open a Dispensary for the treatment of this class of diseases, in all their forms, and to give MEDICAL ADVICE GRATIS, to all who apply by letter, with a description of their condition, (age, occupation, habits of life, &c...) and in cases of extreme poverty, to FURNISH MEDICINES FREE OF CHARGE. It is needless to add tha the Association commands the highest Medical skill of the age, and will furnish the most approved modern treatment.

The Directors, on a review of the past, feel assured that their labors in this sphere of benevolent effort, have been of great benefit to the afflicted, especially to the young, and they have resolved to devote themselves, with renewed zeal, to this very important but much despised canse.

HON. HUMPHREY MARSHALL, In the House of Representatives, May 24th, on the Washington Election Bill.

Mr. Marshall, of Kentucky. As I remarked before, it was not my purpose, certainly, in making the proposition to limit the right of suffrage to citizens of the United States in the municipal elections of the District of Columbia, to open the wide field of debate which has been occupied by other gentlemen.

Nor do I think that it was at all necessary to the elucidation of any argument which has been adduced by my colleague, to travel, for illustration, to the constituency which he and I represent, and to the scenes which occurred in Louisvillo in 1855. He has drawn upon them as matters which he thinks are necessary incidents to the progress

So far as the riots in the city of Louisville are concerned, I do not feel that, in this place or in triotism in the American bosom, for united ac any other, it is necessary for me to make any further remark than to say that a resolution was ods. adopted in public meeting by the party which elected me to a former Congress, declaring that that party is not in any way responsible for those riots: that they did not originate with the Amer ican party; that the members of that party Louisville had no design to enter upon any such movement; that the riots were begun by foreigners who were excited, and incited probably by others, influenced by malice or other improper motive. The American party of Louisville, in view of what had occurred, frankly declared their purpose to be prepared in future to meet whatev-er might occur; and, disclaiming all responsibility for the past, stated, with the boldness of mer who understand their rights, that they will be always ready to protect them, and with whatever emphasis may be required by the circumstances under which they may be invaded.

I was not in Louisville when the riot occurred. I was there two or three days before, and I state here, upon my verity as a gentleman, that so far as I know or ever heard—and I was in the councils of the American party; I was in close con-nection and communion with the leaders and working men of that party at the time engaged in my canvass—there was neither preparation for ntemplation of a riot, up to the time when I left Louisville. I was called nway from the city on Thursday prior to the election by the illness of a member of my family, and did not return until a week after the election had transpired. I therefore speak of those riots from the testimony which was elicited at the time, though a great deal was given which was conflicting and contradictory.

I understand that there were on that day two distinct riots in the city of Lonisville. One originated in the upper part of the city, among the Germans; another occurred two miles off, in the lower part of the city, among the Irish. I under stand that, in both instances, the firing commenced upon the part of the foreigners. upper part of the city the riots commenced among some drunken Germans, who fired from the upper story of a brewery upon n couple of peaceful citizens who were riding along through the streets in their buggy, and were, in fact, going to the country. The police interfered, and was re-sisted, and the fight between the police and the Germans soon involved others. This occurred early in the afternoon on the day of the election, alities, and indicating all the partialities that and was not in the neighborhood of the polls were natural enough in their fatherland. We where the election was taking place.

ing their fire arms, and preparing them, by re- Whigs or Americans or Republicans? pairs and otherwise, for action, for some days quantity of pistols, revolvers, and guns had been purchased from the shops by this class of people. A band of Irishmen, it was said, and if I remember aright it was proved, had come from other places to be present at Louisville at that election, to control our free-born Americans by violence, and many of them actually fled thence after the riot commenced at that point. It is said women and children were there, and that women fell in the shooting that took place. I know not whether this be the truth or not, for there was a great variety and contrariety of testimony taken in re-lation to the seenes which occurred; but, if any female was shot, it was under the circumstances I have described—in that house where a magazine of arms was concealed for purposes of violence, and when a mob had been excited by the peaceable Americans having been ruthlessly fired upon from thence and shot down in the streets. It was deemed unsafe to fight with the adversary concealed in the second story of to absolve the citizen from obedience to the law platform. I would bid you listen to the cry borne these houses, and they were set on fire by the of the land or country to which he belongs, of on every breeze from American citizens in every breeze from American citizens and control citizens rioters. I understand that during the conflagra-tion these arms exploded by bundles and plattoons, where they had been placed beforehand with the cold blooded purpose of human destruc-tion. Mr. Quinn, as I understand, dressed as a woman, undertook to escape, but was recognized and shot down. He was the owner of the buildings, and was held responsible for all the preparation made for the wholesale murder of our people on that occasion

It is with no satisfaction I dwell on these facts. I lament the occurrence as much as any ouc can, and hope never to see anything like it again; but, sir, if such things must transpire, and are to be superinduced by combinations of foreigners in our midst, bent on rule or ruin, the responsibility for the consequences should rest where they pro perly belong, and they should be examined and commented on cautiously and in a spirit of im-partiality. I know well how easy it is for a gendeman in making a speech, like my colleague has done on this occasion, to say that he does not pretend to throw upon one party or the other the onus of these lamentable transactions, for lamen table they are; but when he draws the deduction that all these things must occur so long as there shall exist a party bound together by "horrid oaths," and whose main work is "political and social proscription," there can be no difficulty in detecting the impression he seeks to produce.

In reply to this argument, then, against Americanism, I deny that there is now, or that there ever has been, anything like political proscription at any time in Americanism, properly understood

Americanism among the native born. In the great centers of population, the foreign race had approached an equality of numbers with the native citizens; actually, in some places, they had gained a superiority; and, with his predominance they made combinations for political purposes, and the aequisition of political control. It was then time for Americanism to begin, and I only fear it began too late.

When the description of the proposition. I have seen very few who, when the question was argued, did not confess to the very distinction I take.

But sir, the American party intended to assert the principle that no union in this country shall exist between Church and State. This is our for the guidance of the vessels on the coast of Cuba. cans, without a knowledge of the political philosophy upon which our fathers founded the rich legacy they bequeathed to us in our Constitution, and above all, when foreign influence had reached a point at which American Administrations deemed it wise or expedient to combine with it to maintain or acquire political power in this country, the time had arrived, if there was pa-

Mr. Sickles. Will the geutlemau allow me.

Mr. Marshall of Kentucky. I will. Mr. Sickles. I desire to inquire whether it was not a part of the platform of the American party to disfranchise loreign born citizens from the right to hold office, and to deprive those citizens of the Catholic faith from the exercise of the same right? And I desire to say, in this connection, that when the American party, as a party, is held responsible for the scenes which have Orleans, the charge is not made that gentle-men of character and standing in that par-ty have conspired to produce or to jucite these riots, or that they have taken a personal part in them. The charge is, that the initiation and advocacy of such ideas and such measures directly tend to produce these conflicts and scenes which have disgraced the country.

Mr. Marshall, of Ky. My friend from New York does no more, he will observe, than restate my colleague's proposition. It may be in a little more concise language, but it was exactly to that I was replying. We understand that we are not charged, personally, with any of these lamenta-ble occurrences. We know that gentlemen are aware that neither the gentleman from Maryland [Mr. Harris], nor the gentleman from Louisiana [Mr. Eusis], nor myself, was present at or instigated the riots to which reference has been made. But it is said that these things flow from our po litical philosophy.

I was just attempting to show that the combination formed by Americans was a combination of resistance to aggression upon our rights and our constitution by improper foreign combina-tions, or combinations of crude foreign political philosophers. When we found that persons in this country, who had acquired, under our laws, this country, who had acquired, under our take, the status of adopted fellow citizens, had neither foreign association nor the politics.

I believe that; for the party has the life already (Laugh). ical philosophy which prevailed in their 1ath erland, yet who evinced a determination to apply these predilections to our own system, then the American bosom burned with a desire to unite, under our own flag, and under our own philosophy, and to maintain them jutact in our We saw hordes of foreigners coming upmidst. on us at the rate of four hundred thousand a year, bringing with them all their various nationwhere the election was taking place.

Whoever sympathizes with us in our sentiments, our purposes, and our views, stands of our party, and is in as open a party as either the Democratic or Republican party. The American party long since cast off these forms and long since displayed its principles, purposes, and aims. We invite those who oppose us to discuss the broad platform of our political principles. We claim exactly the privilege of the gardener, who, as his plant grows, clips off here and there, a branch which may have taken false direction, until he presents it to the world as a comely, stately, and well proportioned tree. We have had to prune, and we have done it. We yet hope to build up an American party, believing that there is American sentiment enough in the country to sustain the ef-

A main object in the commencement of the American organization was the cultivation of a spirit of American nationality, of love for our own uative land, of love for our institutions as derived from the Constitution. We will carry our plan further. We aim at protection to American labor, protection to American industry, the enlargement of the sphero of American com-merce, the increase of American efficiency abroad, administrative conduct at home upon the broad political principles which constitute the basis of our philosophy. We hope yet to bring within the fold of our party every well wisher of his country, without regard to former political combinations. Such has been and Is our design. This miserable agitation about slavery entered our councils as it entered the councils of both the Democratic and Whig parties. We split to pieces upon that rock in 1854 and 1855. Whether we shall ever recover from it is a problem for the future. A great many members of the Demoeratic party—as they have done upon other sig-nal occasions—came into the American party, but afterwards left it. A Democrat gravitates to-ward that party, no matter what it does. I freely acknowledge that I was sorry they left us; but their departure left no doubt as to the correctness of American principles, or the necessity for their application.

Sir, those principles will do to live by, to

For one I expect to stand by those principles now, and at all times hereafter. I expect that the men who voted for Millard Fillmore in the last Presidential election will staud by them; that they will guard them jealously, and will preserve them reverently, and will fight for them in the future as in the past ouly with greater cal and with renewed and re doubled exertions. The American party dead!— Why, sir, although it may come out of the errors of administration, although it may be a result of wauton expenditures, or of unequal action in guarding the rights of American citizens abroad, or it may spring from a sense upon the part of the people of this country that the Administration must be committed to hands that will protect American citizens abroad and at home, we hope that, in the progress of years, this nucleus of a

Marshall, a well-known physician and able professor in the Medical College of Ohio, late of this city. Dr. Marshall was the son of the Hon. Martin Marshall, an eminent lawyer of Brack en county, Ky., and was born at Agusta, in 1809. He received his collegiate education and academical degree at Augusta College in 1829, attended medical lectures in this city in 1831 and 1832, and at Philadelphia in 1833. He commenced practice at Washington, Kentucky, in company with his uncle Dr. W. T. Tallaferro, meeting with his uncle Dr. W. T. Tallaferro, meeting with distinguished success, and in July, 1841, removed to this city, where his reputation has been that of an able and skillful practitioner. In 1853, he was appointed to the chair of Diseases of Women and Children, in the Medical College of Ohio, which place he continued to hold until compelled by declining health to resign, in 1857 since which time, with a view to the re establish ment of his constitution he has resided at the place of his decease. Rio Hondo, 1 vol. octavo-Library hinding, 1 vol. octavo-Half-cair antique, With a fine steel plate of Mr. Marshall

THE above work contains about all of Mr. Marshail's finest efforts since 1832.

As a popular orator of unrivated powers and a writer of unsurpassed ability Mr. Marshail stands foremost among the most prominent men of his day. The great reputation he has acquired, both as a speaker and a writer, his long and active identity with and complete knowledge of the political and social history of our country, have created a wide apread desire to see his numerous speeches and writings on various subjects, in a permanent form; and, to meet this desire and to add a valuable contribution to the slandard literature of our own country, we have spared neither pains nor expense to prepare the work in the highest style of the art.

The literary taste and ability of the editor are sufficiently known and appreciated to require no remarks from us. He has carefully prepared appropriate headings, explanatory of each article in the work, and a highly interesting hiegraphical sketch of Mr. Marshall.

LIBERIA, AS I FOUND IT, IN 1858. By Rev. A. M. COWAN, Agent Ky. Colonization Society."

The Bill for the Encouragement of the Fine Arts.

George R. McKcc has repeatedly stated the well known and admitted fact that the Democrat c Clerks of the House of Representatives of the last General Assembly were incompetent to the proper discharge of their duties, and brought up as proof that three assistant Clerks were obliged to be appointed, at an additional cost to the State of more than $1,000. He has also stated that the Clerks of the House of Representatives enrolled a bill that did not pass the Ligislature. We made the same statement soon after the close of the session of the Legislature, and It has never been contradicted until recently, when an anonymous scribbler has written a letter to the Louisville Courier, denying the charge, and traducing the Clerks of the American Sen ate. As we were, probably, Mr. McKec's authority for the statement which he made, it is but right that we should give the facts of the case. Speaking of the bill for the encourage ment of the fine arts, the correspondent of the Courier savs:

The bill was reported from the Judiciary Committee by Mr Ripley, a Know Nothing. Sec Senate Journal 1857-8. page 653, which passed almost unanimously, by the Senate.

The bill was sent immediately to the lower House, and was there defeated by a vote of 41 to 16. [See House Journal, page 650.] The bill then reported back to the Senate by one of irnal, page 668.] And the next we sec of the rules of the Legislature, each bill that is Clerks were all K ow Nothings, and was returned back to the Senate by a Democratic Clerk as can be attached to it? Is it the Clerks of the lower flouse? these inefficient men he speaks of-or is it the infalliable clerks of the Senate? that he thinks are so competent. Why every body knows that it was the elerks of the Senate. I do not attribute any dishouesty or incompeten ey to them, for I am fully satisfied that th Speaker and Clerks of the Senate are competent officers. and high minded and honorable gentlemen, and are incapable of doing an act, intentionally, that would be in the slightest degree ensurable. I know them all, and know them to be perfect gentlemen; and the same with equal can be safely said of the Spe ker aud Clerks of the lower flouse. I, therefore, con clude in my mind that, in the hurry and bustle of business, it being the last day of the session. the bill referred to was enrolled by the Clerks of the Senate, or some person for them, through a mistake, and not done intentionally.

As stated in the above extract, the bill was first passed by the Senate, on the 16th of Feb ruary. The bill was then taken and enrolled .-It was not enrolled by either of the Cicrks of the Senate, nor by their employees, nor by their friends, nor by any one having any connec tion, immediate or remote, directly or indiof the Clerks of each branch of the Gen eral Assembly to enroll the acts of the Legisla- in this way contributed to the monument. # MOSELEY'S TUBULAR WROUGHT IRON

THESE Bridges and Roofs have now been fully teste I in this vicinity, and it is universally conceded that they cannot be excelled. The Roofs are wholly of Wrought Iron, or mixture of Wood and Iron; Sheeting always from.

The Bridges are wholly Wronght Iron except the floor, which is wood, like the floors of ordinary Bridges. We are prepared to make these structures in any quantities, at prices about as follows:

Railroad Bridges, 50 feet span, 8,000 lbs, $17 50 per foot ilneal.

mon Road or Turnpike, 50 feet span, 2,600 lbs, $5 75 per feet lineal.

Roois, all iren, 50 feet width of building, $25 per

Roots, all Iren, 50 feet width of building, $25 per 100 square, feet, part wood and part Iron, from $12 to $20 per square.

Increase of span of bridges or width of buildings makes an increase of price, but the increase in price is no more than the increase of wooden structures.

We can firmish iron of every size to work into Bridges and Roofs, and Railroads or other companies butties the right to use them and the iron of us can Bridges and Roofs, and Railroads or other companies buying ibe right to use them and the iron of us, can make their own structures one third less than the above prices. Our structures weigh only Iron 1-4 to 1-10 that of wood; difference in freight in a long distance buys our work. In a few days we will have at our Factory, 497 West Third street, in this city, four different apeciments of our Roof, where the public can inspect them to their satisfaction. We beg them to give us a call, asail our work is warranted, and we ask up pay on ordinary jobs until the work is done and approved, payments being secured on contracting. #### PROSPECTUS OF THE

GLASGOW. FREE PRESS.

GLASGOW, Ky., December 23, 1857. Dear Sir:—Having disposed of our Printing Office in Elizabethtown, Ky., and removed to Glasgow with the view of permanently locating we purpose commencing the publication of a newspaper sometime during the month of February, to be entitled "THE GLASGOW FREE PRESS." It will be devoted to General Literature, Politics, Agriculture, the Arts and Sciences, News, and assucially to the promotion and advancement of and especially to the promotion and advancement of the local and general interests of the town and county, and those adjacent. No pains or exertion on our part will be intermitted to secure due consideration for all local enterprises, that may be calculated to advance the eneral weal of the community.

An earnest effort will be made to render it a valuable general weal of the community.

An earnest effort will be made to render it a valuable family newspaper, acceptable to all parties, combining a variety of interesting and instructive subjects in its columns. Having bad considerable experience in the business, and being practically familiar with its mechanical duties, we indulge the hope that we shall be enabled to subserve to some extent, the luterests to which the "Free Press" will be dedicated.

American Politics at the present time, may be said very justly, to be in a chrysalis state. We do not design, in this Prospectus, to enter the domain of speculation. It is not necessary to the present purpose, or to define our political position. This may be defined very briefly. We are conscientiously opposed to the practices and the precepts of Modern Democracy. We regard the Democratic party, as now consiluted, essentially an alien party; and consider its alms and purposes, as avowed by its organs, practiced by its leaders, and developed in the present administration, pregnant with evil to the Union, in violation of the plain injunctions of the early fathers, and disastrous to American Natiouality. We recognize in the "Address of the American Party," promulgated at the Louisville Convention, a political creed, eminently mational, eminently gencies. We believe that in the fundamental principles of that organization may be found the panacea for many, if not all the political evils, which have disorder.

is conservative, and peculiarly adapted to present exigencies. We believe that in the fundamental principles of that organization may be found the panacea for many, if not all the political evils, which have disordered the country and fomented sectional strife, and which it is now in evident contemplation to aggravate by unwise and imprudent legislation.

Whilst we shall aim to be perfectly independent and honest in the expression of our views of public men and measures, we shall studiously observe courtesy and a proper respect for the opinions of others, whose convictions may lead them to differ with us. It is the peculiarity and the boast of American institutions, that they seemed each and every one the "free and untrammeted expression of his opinions." In no other government is this perfect freedom of opinion in the citizen tolerated, or considered compatible with the diguity of the State. Our whole system of government reposes upon this basis. Public opinion is here at ouce the source and the support of power. We chertish an appreciation of the great privilege, too exalted, to induce us to refuse to others whin we are prompt to claim for ourselves. Hence the columns of the "Free Parse" will at all times be open to well written, courteous articles, even though they may conflict with our individual opinions.

We invoke, in aid our enterprise, the support and ticles, even though they may conflict with our individual opinions.

We invoke, in aid our enterprise, the support and patronage of the citizens of Barren and surrounding counties, and especially those whose opinions may harmonize with the general views herein expressed.

We send you this circular, hoping that you may feel inclined to give us the benefit of your influence, in procuring a list of subscribers in your locality, by the 1st day of February, 1858.

OF THE "CENTRAL KENTUCKIAN."

PUBLISHED IN LEBANON, KY.

Lebanon, since the completion of the Railroad, counceting it with Louisvilie, is a point of interest to a large section of country. There are hundreds of persons abroad who are in want of information upon various toples connected with it, such as the prices current, facilities for doing and having business done here, &c., and the citizens of Lebanon themselves, wish to inform the public at large, that it is one of the most enterprising and flourishing towns in the luterior of the State, and that it offers great inducements as a place of residence to men of almost every honorable trade and profession. To supply these wants, of people abroad and citizens at home, we have determined to publish "The Central Kentuckian"—a paper devoted to the Commercial, Agricultural, Literary, and Moral welfare of the community in which it is circulated.

It is hoped that we shall be able, by attention to the interest of all concerned, to supply a desideratum long felt.

Citizens of Lebanon and of Marion and autrounding Citizens of Lebanon, and of Marion and surrounding counties, to you, of whatever political party orreligious sects we look for support—and the more liberal that is, the larger and more entertaining will be our paper—for weare determined, if you will place in our hands the means, to make the Central Kentuckian worthy of our patronage.

To obtain this, however, we shall not sacrifice independence by piedging curselves to any party or sect, yet we shall promise you Neutrality in Nothing. If we are not capable of choosing our subject matter, and of commienting upon all or any topic of public interest, in a manner which shall be at once courteons and inofensive, we ought notto come before you as Editers. To be faithful journalists of passing events—candid crities of public acts—and successful advocates of Tatth, is the hight of our ambition. hight of our ambition.

TERMS:--$1 50 ln advance; $2 00 ln six months. No deduction made on clubs. Return the list of names as soon as possible, as we shall issue the first number on Wednesday, the 27th. OUELL & MORSE, LEBAKON, Jan. 9, 1858. Editors and Publishers.
